

STUTTERING STUDY RECRUITMENT

WHO ARE WE?

Dr. Joan Orpella in the Neuroscience department at Georgetown University Medical Center. We are interested in investigating the neural basis of stuttering. Dr. Orpella works with many renowned stuttering researchers nationally and internationally, including researchers at the NIH, NYU, UMD, and Uppsala University.

CAN I PARTICIPATE?

You can participate if you are:

- 1) An adult who stutters
- OR
- 2) A typically fluent speaker

18+

WHAT WILL I DO?

The study has four parts:

- 1) Online interview and screening (~1 hour)
- 2) Brain imaging 1 (MRI ~1 hour)
- 3) Brain imaging 2 (fMRI ~1 hour)
- 4) Brain imaging 3 (MEG ~2 hours)

OTHER DETAILS

 You can earn up to $400!

 Two in-person sessions at Georgetown University's Medical Campus & one at University of Maryland's Neuroimaging Center.

 Brain picture included!

 Parking included!

 More questions? Interested in supporting? Send us an email!

INTERESTED?

SCAN ME!

CONTACT US HERE:
ORPELLA.LAB@GEORGETOWN.EDU